

Doorknob Hangers

It's not always easy to talk to people about pesticides. It can be especially difficult when you're reminded of it just at those moments when the neighbor has a sprayer in her hand, or the ChemLawn truck has arrived at his house.

The Safe Lawn Door Hanger helps concerned neighbors spread the word about lawn pesticides and alternatives with minimal confrontation. It can be used as an icebreaker for such conversations, or just hung on the the front door (or other visible spot) of the homes you know or suspect use pesticides. The information on the hanger provides helpful resources on safe lawn care in every region of the country. If you'd like additional help talking to your neighbors about pesticides, see Beyond Pesticides' article, "Getting the Message Across."
